

Better for the environment by design.

Environmental, health & safety management policy.

It is the policy of Albright to conduct all business activities in a responsible manner, free from recognised hazards, and with respect to the environment, health and safety of our employees, customers, suppliers, partners and the general public.

We comply with all applicable environmental, health and safety legal requirements and with other requirements, to which we subscribe, related to EHS aspects and risks. We will implement programs to achieve greater protection, where appropriate.

All our employees are expected and encouraged to report environmental, health and safety concerns, to continuously maintain a safe work environment. We are committed to the prevention of pollution and will strive to conserve the earth's natural resources through the use of sustainable products and adoption of best practices and processes.

Albright is committed to the implementation, maintenance and continuous improvement of its ISO 14001 accredited EHS Management Systems.

Key EHS Strategies to Support Our Policy.

Employee Protection: A strong commitment in the prevention of work-related injuries and illnesses, and maintaining a safe and healthy workplace.

Risk Minimisation: Continual assessment of the environmental aspects and safety and health risks of our operations, activities and services, and incorporation of practical procedures and controls necessary to prevent any adverse impacts.

Environmental Reasonability: We Support the reduction, reuse and recycling of waste materials, the elimination of emissions that adversely impact the environment, and the conservation of natural resources.

Continuous Improvement: Leading by example in setting and continually reviewing relevant EHS goals and targets designed to ensure continuous improvement in our EHS performance.

Sustainable Supply Chain: Partnering with our suppliers and customers to protect the environment by, where reasonable and practicable, demanding the most environmentally conscious products.

Industry connection and cooperation: Demonstrating EHS leadership through participation in the formulation of EHS policy, and applying our resources to improve the industry in which we serve.
